[FROM OUR SPECIAL COMMISSIONER.] CLARION, January 30 .- The Allegheny drains a temperance country. And the Clarion river is one of its tributaries, too. Before I reached this place I had been coaxed to believe that the waters of the Clarion were of a whisky color, which polluted the purity of the wider and clearer stream after the two meet at Parkers. Some Prohibitionists in Pittsburg first told me that there were too many helter-skelter oil- trees. well drillers up here to permit Clarion county to vote for the Constitutional amendment. Over in Bedford, last week, Hon. John Cessna expressed the opinion that Clarion would probably give a majority against the amendment. He evidently sized up the situation from a political standpoint, remembering that the county is overwhelmingly Democratic and generally ready to use the rod with if a child of Repubthen, up in Oil City, we were talking about Clarion, and he remarked that a hatred of sumptuary laws would no doubt cause the county to oppose the amendment.

A REPLY TO CESSNA.

So it was with considerable curiosity that I began my work in this county. The first bit of news I struck was the fact that N. A. K. Weidner, one of the most prominent written a letter to ex-Congressman Cessna. informing him that he was mistaken in setting Clarion county down as a hot-bed of liquor interests. He wrote that the county would undoubtedly give a majority for Con- once did. The business is now in respectstitutional amendment, as she did for local able hands, The second item that I picked up was that on Monday Judge Theophilus S. Wilson granted exactly 29 liquor licenses in having been 30 applications from all over that oil and water can mix after all, and the county. Last year none at all were that, possibly, with a little more ease than refused. Of the 29 issued this year, three are for distilleries and one for a brewery. Close upon the heels of this information came the gossip that not a single remonstrance had been filed against the 29 applicants by the temperance people. Investigation proved that this was true, except in the case of Edenburg, where remonstrances had been prepared and signed, but that the sleigh of the overland courier stuck in snowdrifts Monday morning and he reached Clarion Court House too late to present his documents. Harrisburg dispatches lately recorded the votes of Clarion county's members of the Legislature against the submission of the resolution, and this fact was called to my mind before I had been in town an hour. MATERIAL TO CHOOSE FROM.

Certainly here were enough of materials to work upon. Curiously enough the first persons I happened to meet while interviewing were Democrats.

J. W. Greenland, who was Deputy Secre-J. W. Greenland, who was Deputy Secre-tary of Internal Affairs under Governor $3, at "The Elite Gallery," 516 Market st.,

Pattison, said: I have no doubt that Clarion county will give a majority for the amendment. It is a mistake to think because we are Democrats that we are opposed to this measure. There is no disposition here to make it a party fight. The liquor interests are not congregated together, but are scattered all over the country. Therefore they will not exert a great influence. On the other hand the Women's Christian Temperance Union have an organization, I understand, in every borough and township. They will can-

John Hindman, Esq., ex-District Attorney, also a Democrat, said:

I should think that the majority for the amendment in this county will be from 500 to 1,000. Our largest boroughs, Clarion, Edenburg and East Brady, will all vote for it. In the two last named places big remonstrances were made last year against licenses. The agricultural people will all be for it. So will the oil well drillers. In the north the farming element is strong, while the German settlers in the south, both Protestant and Catholic, will probably aid man, said:

The amendment will carry in Clarion county. In addition to all the farmers, who are for it. there is the large vote to be expected from the petroleum field-men. They are eminently re spectable, and as producers do not care to risk their machinery and the prospects of a rich strike of oil with intemporate drillers; they are now nearly all Prohibitionists. Why, if you remember, we carried local option in this county in 1873, and that was in the midst of the presidest oil excitement ever known here. St. Petersburg and Edenburg were both towns of probably 5,000 persons each, and a very rough element at that. These towns are now quite small, with a fixed population, so if we voted for temperance under those circumstances, we say the trans.

AN OPPOSITE VIEW. Ex-Sheriff J. M. Shannon, who now owns | Carson st., Southside.

one of the principal hotels in the town, took a decidedly different view of the pros-pects for June. Said he:

pects for June. Said he:

The Clerk of Courts and myself have made a careful estimate of the vote likely to be polled in June, and as a result I think the amendment will be defeated in Clarion county. Last year, when remonstrances were filed against the petitioners for license, it was a fact that the number of names signed to petitions was larger than the number of names signed to the remonstrances. That is a good indication of the public sentiment here. We are largely Democratic here and the plainer it is made out that this is a Republican measure the surer is Clarion to defeat it. When the farmers around us, who sell the three distilleries a great deal of rye, realize that their market will be gone if the amendment passes, then they, too, will oppose it. There is a large of rye, realize that their market will be gone if the ameudment passes, then they, too, will oppose it. There is a large German Catholic vote in some of the townships which is sure to be for a continuation of liquor and license. The number of old German voters in Clarion county is very large, and they are a people peculiar for beverages. Besides all these things, it is a special election, and as some polling places in our county are three miles apart, farmers cannot spare the half day necessary to cast a vote. In every district day necessary to cast a vote. In every district the taverns have strong friendships. Other-wise, the 29 licenses would not have been granted by the Court this week. Cornelius Tyson, another hotel proprietor, who does business at Foxburg, said: The county is doubtful, although we had no trouble to get licenses this year. But don't you torget it, there are a great many advocates of inperance in this county. Last year over 100 imbers of the W. C. T. U. appeared in Court against our licenses.

Walter Greenland, Esq., said it all depends on what takes place between now and June 18. If voted upon to-morrow, he believes Clarion county would give the amend-ment from 1,000 to 1,500 majority, but if stirred up, and if party feeling is aroused by some unwise action or utterance, it might only get through by a close vote. He believes it will carry, though, at any event. The liquor interests he did not think would have the popular sympathy in sending out that she is training with the liquor people That counts for a great deal in arousing en-

PROHIBITION WILDCATTING. Last night I concluded to forego the comfort of a hotel bed and spend the evening among the oil wells. So much has been said about the way this class of Western Pennsylvania workmen will vote on the amend-ment question, that I thought it worth while to personally investigate the problem. Hundreds of rigs, either in operation or abandoned, fringe the railroad tracks from the main line of the Allegheny Valley Railroad to Clarion, a distance of 30 miles. But just outside the town of Clarion is a new village of derricks, grown up since the more recent petroleum discoveries of 150barrel wells.

They are in the midst of a forest miles in extent. The woods are dense, but just at this point quite level. Probably 150 derricks are up. Approached by night the seene was weird but brilliant. At each derrick stood the little engine shanty, and burning from a pipe, close to the ground, was a huge jet of natural gas. Beside every derrick blazed one of these flambleaux Down the narrow forest aisles, across the leafless avenues, and in every nook and corner of the woodland, you saw by these flames the gaunt walkingbeam of the engine see-saw up and down in There were no dwelling houses in sight-it was but one vast and splendidly illuminated grove, with the grotesque shadows of derricks overawing the monarch

The hiss of steam; the never-ceasing thump, thump, thumpety-thump of the engine; the whir-swish of the pump, and the shrill whistle of the boiler when "a well was down" made the night lively. An amber fountain throwing its greasy spray high over the twigs and bushes, furnished the spectacular part of a "strike" twice during the night, and the regulation "dull thud," under your feet, announced that a "duster" had been "shot."

OIL AND WATER MIX. lican origin is laid across her knee; and in this election no secret is made of the parentage of the issue. It was the same dyed-inthe-wool reputation that was probably in the mind of Colonel Hulings only yesterday to vote now. We don't need time to study out a thing. You see we read the parentage of the derrick. ing for market quotations on 'Change and keeping track of developments in other petroleum fields. While tending the drill e've lots of time to read the other news, and strange as it may seem to you city chaps, we know as much out in these back woods about what's goin' on as you do."

Then, upon mingling with the men generally, I found that, as described in one of the above interviews, oil-well drilling is too Democratic attorneys at the bar, and a good hazardous to be trusted in the hands of judge of political weather-signs, had just drinkers. Times and methods have revolutionized since the wickedness and recklessness of Pithole. Petroleum Center and Oil Creek. Even the most intense excitement of rich oil discoveries does not countenance wholesale intoxication the way it

The vote for both St John and Fish in Clarion county was less than 150. Local option had a majority in 1873.

One of the strange things that will be son granted exactly 29 liquer licenses in proven by June's election in Clarion, as four hours. Only one was refused, there well as in Venango and Warren counties, is benzine and whisky. L. E. STOFIEL.

HIS BLUE VIEW OF IT

Ex-Attorney General Smith, of Kansas, Deprecates Prohibition

AS A BREEDER OF AWFUL CRIMES.

He Thinks it Will Make Pennsylvania a State of Liars Like Kansas.

HOW THE GOOD TEMPLARS ET AL WORK

It is not generally known in this city that

Colonel G. P. Smith, the Special Examiner of the Pension Department, now stationed in Pittsburg, is an ex-Attorney General of the State of Kansas. A DISPATCH reporter, while in his office yesterday accidentally learned that such was the fact. Colonel Smith held that position from 1885 to 1887. He is a resident of Humboldt, Alten county, and is thoroughly conversant with everything pertaining to the operation of the prohibition laws in Kansas. It was mainly through him that the old ironclad laws regarding the use of liquors of any kind within the State were amended and made more liberal. Speaking of the probable passage of the prohibitory act in this State, Colonel Smith said:

"It will be a very bad thing for Pennsylvan if the manufacture and sale of any kind of liquors within the State be prohibited. As I ived in Kansas nearly all my life, I certainly think I have had opportunity to observe what good the law has done for that State. It has urned law and order into lawlessness and disorder, and, if it becomes a law here, this peaceful community will be thrown into a bedlam.

IT LEADS TO MANY LIES. The law in Kansas has morally corrupted housands of respectable and previously lawabiding people. Men who were my neighbors, and upon whose word of honor I could almost stake my life, when called to testify in a case of illegal liquor-selling would deliberately perjure themselves and think nothing of it. It is jure themselves and think nothing of it. It is almost impossible to secure a conviction, and in any number of places the saloons are open just as they are in this city.

It is almost an unheard-of thing to get a man who has purchased whisky in a saloon to testify against the seller. If the County Attorney asks a man if he was in John Brown's saloon at a certain date, he will say "yes." "Did you get anything to drink?" "Yes." "What was it?" "I don't know." "Was it beer?" "I don't know." "Was it beer?" "Yes, it tasted something like beer." "What did you ask for when you purchased it?" "I called for foam." "Do you not know it was beer?" "I did not analyze it."

I have seen hundreds of cases being tried in this way, and you could not get a conviction in any possible way. If the evidence was so conclusive that there was not the shadow of a doubt about the guilt of the person charged, the jury would disagree and no verdict could be found.

During my term of office I determined to

During my term of office I determined to find out how many drinking places there were in Leavenworth. In company with a friend I visited 30 saloons within an hour. In Leavenworth worth. Atchison and other large cities the public sentiment is so strong against the law that the saloons sell openly. The City Councils have tried to pass ordinances keeping a check on the saloons, but that is almost impossible.

HIS OFFICIAL VIEW OF IT. When I went into office, in 1885, I found a bill before me which my predecessor had wrestled with for some time. The City Councils of Atchison, finding that there would be no limit to the number of saloons which were existing in open violation of the law, passed a city law licensing the saloons. The Prohibi-tionists carried the matter to the State courts, but could do nothing.

Last June I went out to visit my relatives in Humboldt and was in four saloons where Humboldt and was in four saloons where liquors of all kinds were served. The barrooms were furnished up handsomely, and you could get anything you wanted to drink provided you had somebody to vouch for you. Humboldt is a town of only 3,000 people, and is a fair sample of how the laws are observed throughout the State.

If the law passes in this State, we will have free whisky in this city. The farmers around Pittsburg would not be allowed to make a gallon of cider for table use. They would have to let their apples rot away if they could not sell them. If they owned a vineyard and wanted to make a gailon of wine, they could not do it legally. The farmers in Kansas laugh at the law, and this spirit puts a premium on law

RAISING SINEWS OF WAR.

The Good Templars Getting Down to Business and Others to Follow-Equal Repre sentation at Harrisburg. John A. Martin, the prominent Murphy man, and also known to be a member of the Good Templars, and the Sons of Temperance, was asked last night as to just how the coming campaign was to be conducted by the latter organizations, and his talk furnishes some very important points.

He said that there were 15 lodges of the Good Templars in Allegheny county, and the total State membership is 13,000. There has, in addition to this, been a big increase since December 31, the date of the last report. Thirty new lodges have come in since then, owing to the intense interest taken in the amendment campaign. A. H. Leslie, Esq., with himself, organized the first col-ored lodge in this State, the Avery lodge, of Allegheny, and next week they will organize a colored lodge in the M. E. church on Arthur street. The Sons of Temperance have a membership of 21,000 in the State, and the roll is rapidly increasing.

Plans have been formed by the two gentlemen, and are being pushed in these organizations, to have every society and organization, no matter how large or small, send three delegates to the general conference at Harrisburg. This plan will give the W. C. T. U. but three delegates, also the Prohibition party. Mr. Martin does not think anything important will come of the meeting on February 5, but that it will be adjourned until the Constitutional amendment gathering at Harrisburg, February 20; also that the permanent chairman chosen there will be neither a Prohibitionist nor a Mugwump, but either a Republican or In reply to a question as to how funds would be raised for the campaign, he said that the Good Templar officers had, on last Monday, mailed a letter to each of their 13,300 members to be utilized by them on the geometrical progression plan, they each to send two letters and so on. The amount asked in each case is 10 cents, and they ex-pect the total to be something enormous. The Sons of Temperance have a good sized surplus in the treasury, but they will no doubt adopt the same plan in order to allow their friends to help the cause along.

In response to a request from Francis Murphy they will go to Youngstown to as-sist in a few rousing meetings. Mr. Murphy writes brightly of his success there and his hopes elsewhere, but says not on word about the Constitutional amendment.

During this time I treated with no less than thirty physicians; not only with the most skilled physicians of this city, but also with the most eminent physicians of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, receiving no permanent benefit. My symptoms were as follows: Continuous headache, dizziness, catarrhal secretion in my head dropping into my throat and depositing its poison on my lungs; dry hacking dough and shortness of breath; had a terrible burning sensation in my stomach, belching of gas, also nausea and frequent vomiting. Had a weak, tired feeling all the time. My friends thought I could not live. I felt that life was a burden and death would be a relief. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

It's astonishing. Hundreds of pairs sold, of the $8 Madeto-measure Trousers, within the last few weeks, and at a time wardrobes are not being replenished. There is a reason for it. The magnificent quality and the wonderfully low price. We've been for weeks speaking of their great value. We're not done with the subject till we get every wearer of Trousers interested. Nobby styles for young men.

KAUFMANNS' To-Day! .: To-Day!

WHEN THEY WILL CLOSE OUT THREE LOTS OF MEN'S FINE OVERCOATS,

th $10, For $4 90.

Why this sacrifice? It is as plain as truth itself. The motive is not philanthropic one. We're not desirous of giving the goods away, but our usual winter has been altogether too mild and balmy to suit the merchant who has had heavy goods to sell. Hence, the charming (not for us) weather has left us with "severial" more Overcoats than we want or have room for.

Remember, too, that, though the Overcoat season may be nearly over for us-'tis not for you. Last year it was March that brought us "winter's icy blasts," and this year all indications point to the same result. An Overcoat, therefore, still is the boss investment, especially if bought at this great special

During this sale we will offer 250 Men's first-class blue Chinchilla Overcoats, 175 Men's elegant Diagonal Cassimere Overcoats and about 50 Men's blue Chinchilla long Ulsters with high storm collarsall at the uniformly low price of $4 90. Some of these Overcoats were previously considered good bargains at $10, while others are regular $12 and $15 garments. We have put them all together on one counter, and to-day, Thursday, any man will be welcome to take his choice for only $4 90. But, bear in mind, Cash only buys a garment at this price. Don't ask for credit, as we will not charge anything to anybody.

DURING THE ABOVE SALE, TO-DAY, THURSDAY, we will also offer 100 dozen Men's fine French Seal Caps, worth $2, for 69c; and 60 dozen Boys' good Astrachan and Plush Caps, flannel lined and ear-lugs, worth 50c, for only 13 cents.
